

WRVAG Executive Board

Our Executive Board meetings are open to the public and we encourage those individuals who are interested in our vision to attend any of our meetings. Our website lists our current projects and we welcome new ideas.

Board members leave for any number of reasons and, as amazing as our Board of Directors are at directing this organization, our Board is currently not sustainable. We do not have enough Board members to provide for continuity and knowledge base, ensuring a smooth transition when Board members begin to leave.

So, if you are an artist/artisan or an individual who loves art — and you wouldn't be receiving this newsletter if you weren't — please consider joining our team. You do not need to be an officer of the Board, we have unlimited positions for Members at Large.

President's Message

In just six short months, our amazing Board of Directors has rebuilt the WRVAG's very foundation. We have restated our Articles of Incorporation, rebuilt our Bylaws, cleaned up our member database, established a newsletter to keep our members informed and, created a WRVAG specific website. No small feat, mainly because we started from scratch!

Now that the foundation has been established, we are beginning to move forward, reinventing the WRVAG to bring a wider artistic vision to our community. We are exploring partnering with regional art organizations to expand our resources and ideas to better serve our community and artists. Additionally, we are in the initial stages of developing a public arts programs, which will increase opportunities for our regional and local artists, as well as adding a new level of interest to our community. And finally, we are working on increasing the number and variety of exhibitions we sponsor throughout the year.

Will this happen overnight? No, of course not. The Board's vision is far reaching and the journey will be long. If you are interested, either as an artist/artisan or an individual who appreciates the arts, please join us on this incredible journey!

In closing, this organization needs the support of our regional artists and artisans, as well as our non-artist patrons in order to grow and educate our community. Art, in all its disciplines, speaks to our soul...our humanity...and, in these trying times, it is needed more than ever.

On The Web

Our website is your portal to all things pertaining to the WRVAG. Not only does our website keep you informed of our latest exhibitions, events, and Executive Board projects; but is loaded with easy to fill out electronic forms, giving you direct access to WRVAG management. For example:

- Sign Up for Our Newsletter
- Sign Up to be a Donor
- Sign Up to be Included in Our Database for Event Mailings
- Artists/Artisans List Your WebSite
- Request to be a Featured Artist to Exhibit and Sell Your Work

And, the list goes on.

Our new website is in its infancy and will begin to take on a life of its own. Please stop by often and explore all there is to offer on our website; not only for our regional and local artist/artisans, but our community as well.
